"Yes, so far as I know."

"The public came in in shoats, didn't it?" asked Mr. Intermyer.

"Yes, you might say that," said Mr. Burrage. He could not say whether the "Insiders" entered large requests for subscriptions to the stock, but he knew that before the stock was allotted the price had gone to $115 or $120 per $100 chare. About $375,000,000 of offers, he said, were received for the $75,000,000 of stock.

Mr. Burrage could not remember details of operations by which Amalgamated took over Boston and Montana and Butie and Boston. Boston and Butie, Mr. Burrage said, was accumulated on his advice. Later, he said, the Globe bank of Boston failed, holding a large block of Boston and Montana stock. Just miler to the failure he said, Mr. Lawson conducted a vigorous advertiang campaign, "builing Butte and Boston and Montana Mr. Burrage said he had taken no part in the negotiations by which the Amalgamated of gamasers secured the Boston and Montano stock held by the Globe bank campaign had any relation to the Globe failure.

Basis of Exchange.

Mr Burrage said that Butte and Boston has exchanged for Amsigamated at the ate of four shares of Amsigamated for one of Butte and Boston, which with Amsigamated at $130 made a price of $20. Butte-Montaina he said, was exchanged share for share with Amsigamated in the merger.

Mr. Entermyer asked if Mr. Rogers and Mr. Rockefeller had not acquired Butte and Boston and Butte and Montana and had then as directors of the Amalgamated voted to buy this stock for themselves. But Mr. Burrage did not remember.

"But you know that the value of those stocks increased from $30,000,000 to $104.

000,000 when they were transferred to the Amalgamated."

"Yes—a profit for those who held the shares," answered Mr. Burrage
Mr. Burrage said that in 1904 he ordered all his papers and accounts destroyed because Mr. Lawson and Mr. Rogers were engaged in an altercation. "They were both frieuds of mine and I did not wish to become involved," said Mr. Burrage.

With the conclusion of his examination the committee recessed for lunchson.

A simple and easy way to cure weak, deranged kidneys or bladder is to use the following formula: Get six ounces good pure gin and add to it one-half ounce Murax Compound and one-half ounce Murax Compound and one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu. Take one to two teaspoonfuls of this mixture after each meal and at bed time. Nearly all good druggists have these ingredients. Any one can mix.

Weak kidneys or bladder should be given attention as soon as any of the well-known symptoms are noticed. Nexlect in the matter is dangerous as the serious forms, Bright's disease, chronic rheumatism or dread diabetes, may develop. These can be avoided if the above simple mixture is used before complications set in.
